The NSS Unit of BIT, in collaboration with the Boliyar Village Panchayat and under the Brahat Swachata Abhiyan initiative, organized a significant Community Clean-Up Drive on November 26, 2024, at Boliyar Village. This event was not merely a cleaning campaign but a step towards fostering a sense of responsibility among the villagers and participants to ensure a clean and sustainable environment. It aimed at raising legal awareness about environmental conservation and highlighted the fundamental duty of every citizen to protect and improve their surroundings.

The initiative witnessed active support from key stakeholders, ensuring its success and impact. Among the supporters were the President of Boliyar Village Panchayat, the Panchayat Development Officer (PDO), the SBI Foundation, NGOs such as Hasiru Dala Mangalore and Sanjeevini Okkuta, as well as local social workers. Their involvement added credibility and strength to the event, further encouraging the local community to participate wholeheartedly.

The inauguration of the event was marked by a warm welcome from Mr. Abdul Shakur, the President of Boliyar Village Panchayat. In his address to the attendees, he emphasized the importance of collective action, stating, "Let's unite for a brighter tomorrow, starting with a cleaner Boliyar today." His words resonated with the spirit of the event and set a motivational tone for the activities to follow.

The program officially began with Mrs. Sudharani Doddamani, the Panchayat Development Officer of Boliyar Village, leading the gathering in an oath. She read the Preamble of the Indian Constitution, reminding everyone of their duties as citizens. This symbolic act underscored the connection between civic responsibilities and environmental stewardship. Mrs. Chithrakshi, the Secretary of the Panchayat, was also present, lending her support and encouragement to the initiative.

A crucial aspect of the event's success was the involvement of the faculty and administration from BIT. Dr. S.I. Manjur Basha, the Principal of BIT, played a pivotal role in providing the necessary facilities and resources for the drive. His active encouragement of the NSS volunteers showcased the institution's commitment to community service. Dr. Mohamed Kafeel Delvi, the NSS Program Officer, was instrumental in guiding and monitoring the activities of the volunteers. He also took the opportunity to educate the participants about the importance of waste segregation. He emphasized categorizing waste into wet, solid, and hazardous types, a practice essential for effective waste management and environmental sustainability.

The Clean-Up Drive involved enthusiastic participation from NSS volunteers who undertook various tasks to enhance the cleanliness of Boliyar Village. They diligently worked on cleaning the Panchayat roads, community areas, and the Bus Stop Junction. Additionally, they cleared trash from village streets, temples, playgrounds, and vacant spots that had been neglected over time. Their dedication and hard work reflected a genuine spirit of community service, inspiring others to join hands in maintaining a clean environment.

The support from NGOs such as Hasiru Dala Mangalore and Sanjeevini Okkuta added a professional dimension to the drive. These organizations brought their expertise in waste management and community engagement, ensuring that the efforts were not only impactful but also sustainable in the long term. The SBI Foundation's involvement further highlighted the significance of corporate social responsibility in addressing environmental challenges.

Throughout the day, volunteers and participants worked tirelessly, demonstrating a strong sense of unity and purpose. The activities were carefully planned and executed, ensuring that every area identified for cleaning received attention. The sight of volunteers collecting and segregating waste into appropriate categories served as a practical lesson in environmental awareness for the villagers who observed the efforts.

The event also included an educational component, where participants and villagers were informed about the benefits of maintaining cleanliness and adopting sustainable practices. Discussions were held on topics such as reducing plastic usage, composting organic waste, and recycling non-biodegradable materials. These discussions aimed to instill a long-lasting awareness among the community members, encouraging them to adopt environmentally friendly practices in their daily lives.

Dr. Mohamed Kafeel Delvi's guidance during the drive was particularly noteworthy. His emphasis on the three categories of waste segregation—wet, solid, and hazardous—helped the participants understand the significance of handling waste responsibly. He also shared practical tips on reducing household waste and the importance of reusing and recycling materials whenever possible. These insights were well-received by the participants, who expressed their willingness to implement them in their homes and communities.

The clean-up activities extended beyond mere waste collection. Volunteers also focused on beautifying public spaces, such as repainting walls and planting saplings in strategic locations. These efforts not only enhanced the aesthetic appeal of Boliyar Village but also contributed to its ecological well-being. The planting of trees was particularly symbolic, representing a commitment to long-term environmental health and sustainability.

Another notable aspect of the event was the involvement of local social workers who brought a grassroots perspective to the initiative. Their presence bridged the gap between the organizers and the community, ensuring that the drive was inclusive and addressed the specific needs of the village. The social workers also played a key role in mobilizing local participation, encouraging villagers to join the efforts and take ownership of their environment.

As the day progressed, the transformation of Boliyar Village became evident. Streets that were once littered with waste became clean and orderly, and public spaces regained their charm. The collective effort of the NSS volunteers, stakeholders, and community members created a sense of pride and accomplishment among all involved. The positive energy and enthusiasm displayed during the drive were infectious, leaving a lasting impression on everyone who participated or witnessed the event.

The Clean-Up Drive concluded on a high note with the singing of the National Anthem, a gesture that symbolized unity and collective responsibility. The event's success was not only measured by the visible cleanliness achieved but also by the awareness it generated among the community members. The initiative served as a reminder of the power of collaboration and the impact that can be achieved when individuals come together for a common cause.

In the aftermath of the drive, feedback from the villagers highlighted the event's effectiveness. Many expressed their gratitude to the organizers and volunteers for their efforts, while others pledged to maintain the cleanliness achieved. The involvement of multiple stakeholders, including the Panchayat, NGOs, and educational institutions, set an example of how diverse groups can work together to address pressing environmental issues.

Looking ahead, the NSS Unit of BIT plans to conduct follow-up initiatives to ensure that the momentum generated by this drive is sustained. Regular monitoring of cleanliness in Boliyar Village, workshops on waste management, and tree plantation drives are some of the activities being considered. These efforts aim to build on the foundation laid by the Clean-Up Drive, fostering a culture of environmental responsibility among the villagers.

In conclusion, the Community Clean-Up Drive organized by the NSS Unit of BIT in association with the Boliyar Village Panchayat and under the Brahat Swachata Abhiyan initiative was a resounding success. It not only transformed Boliyar Village into a cleaner and more vibrant community but also instilled a sense of responsibility and awareness among its residents. The event demonstrated the power of collaboration and community spirit in addressing environmental challenges, setting a benchmark for similar initiatives in the future. With continued efforts and commitment, such drives have the potential to create a ripple effect, inspiring other communities to take up the cause of environmental sustainability.
